

Adding stories for patterning and calculating

Numicon 1 Securing Foundations 4 and 5

I see two butterflies in my garden and then one more.

There are _____ butterflies altogether.

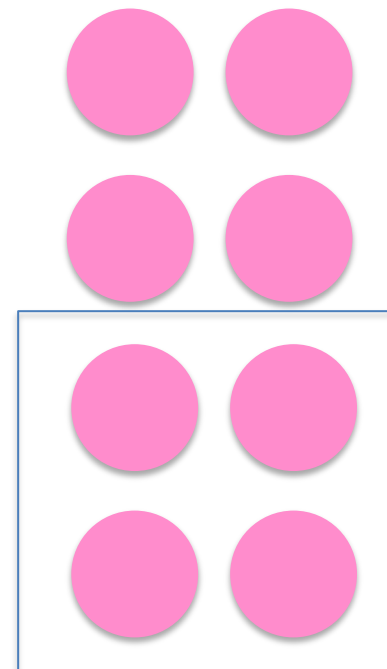

I saw two crickets in my garage
and then three more.

There are now _____ crickets altogether.

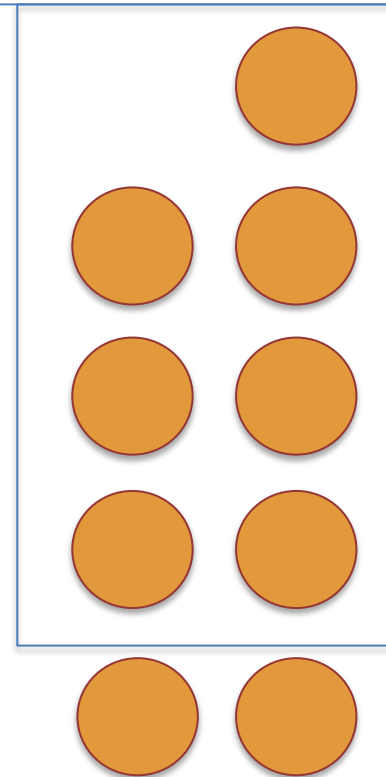

I make four doughnuts and then four more.

There are _____ doughnuts altogether.

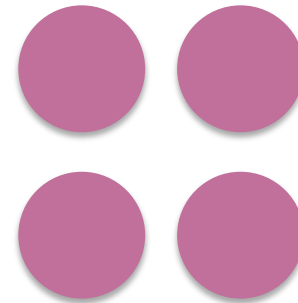

I pick seven peaches off my tree
and then two more.

There are _____ peaches altogether.

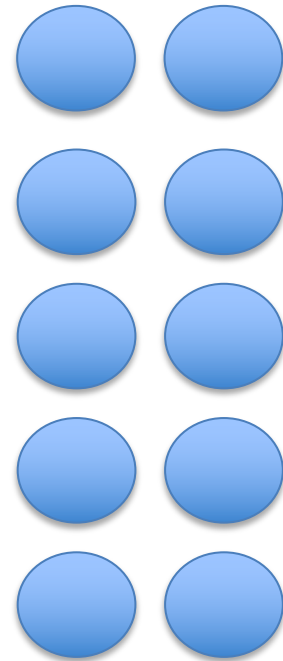

There are two girls and two more come.

There are _____ girls altogether.

There are eight windsurfers and two more come.

There are now _____ windsurfers altogether.

I make four doughnuts and then three more.

There are now _____ doughnuts altogether.

There are _____
and then _____ more.

_____ and _____ makes _____.

Four doughnuts and three more.

There are seven altogether.

Four and three more.

Four and three makes seven.

Four and three more.

Four and three equals
seven.

Tell a story about these children